How to get to the conference :

The Michael D. Penner Institute on ESG Issues is an interdisciplinary hub bringing together the expertise of professors, researchers, students and practitioners from the Université de Montréal, HEC Montréal and Polytechnique Montréal, external organizations and civil society. Through the establishment of Scotiabank's Sustainable Development Innovation Observatory, the Institute will support research on innovations that support one or more of the 17 Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) adopted by the United Nations.
